SOUTHWEST AIRLINES UPDATE

Immediately after the announcement of the acquisition of Air Tran by the company we had a brief discussion with the company regarding various details of the announcement. As is usually the case in these situations initially after the announcement there are more questions than answers at this time. As a result of our conversation we have set a meeting with the appropriate department heads and Labor Relations for next Friday October 8, 2010, to begin the process of sorting through the many operational questions that exist. An update will be published immediately after this meeting.

Fraternally yours,
